

MANITOU SPRINGS COMPANY IS PURCHASED FOR $250,000

Local Capitalists to Take Over Property at Once; Deal One of Largest in Years in Pikes Peak Region

The largest deal in real estate made in the Pikes Peak region in the last 25 years was completed this morning when the property of the Manitou Mineral Springs company will be transferred to O. H. Shoup and B. H. Hopkins and several other local capitalists. The deal involves $250,000, and a check for a large amount has been turned over to George A. Krause, resident executor for the estate of Gen. William J. Palmer, as evidence of good faith in the transaction.

The deal includes all the property of the Manitou Mineral Springs company, comprising 25 acres. This will be retained by the estate of General Palmer. The property included in the purchase is composed of the bottling works, the bath house, the three springs and the pavilion, as well as the spring houses.

May Retain Present Name.

The property extends along the north side of Manitou avenue, and is in the heart of the town. Last winter, when a deal was pending for the sale of the property to a Chicago corporation, the entire property was valued at $500,000. The value of the ground and buildings depending largely upon the three famous mineral springs on the ground, the value of these has never been determined. Without doubt they are the most valuable mineral water springs in the west.

The purchase is entirely by local capital, and will be exploited by Colorado Springs men. O. H. Shoup, one of the heads of the company, stated yesterday that work will be started immediately in improving the property, repairing the buildings and making preparations for the worldwide exploitation of Manitou mineral water.

An extensive advertising campaign will be pushed to acquaint the world with Manitou water, which flows so abundantly from the springs.

Property in Heart of Town.

The name of the company probably will remain as it is now—The Manitou Mineral Springs company. The officers and directors of the new corporation will be announced as soon as the deal is completed.

Five men at the head of the Manitou Mineral Springs company are O. H. Shoup and B. H. Hopkins are president and secretary, respectively, of

Springs Four Plays Dashing Game; Foxhall Keene Thrown Twice in Fierce Encounters

Riding like the wind and not caring for the chance of being thrown to the turf, the slashing quartet of the Cheyenne Mountain Country club yesterday completely overwhelmed the team of the Twelfth United States cavalry by the score of 10-2 to 1. The second day of the revival tournament of the Country club was as big as the first, the attendance being as large as Saturday and the interest displayed just as keen. A number of the visiting governors were in the crowd, mingling with the society set and generally enjoying the day before their sessions commenced today.

The play was the most sensational of the tournament. Pitted against the bronzed cavalry officers, who made some of the best points of Uncle Sam's stables, the locals knew their chance was to rush the opposing four, and they did.

Keene Twice Injured.

Two accidents that came near being serious ones occurred during the game and Foxhall Keene, the champion of the local four, suffered in both. In the third period, Keene, of polo 2, sent the star New Yorker sprawling on his back from his pony, but the veteran of the field was up in an instant, mounted his pony and was off. In the same period Keene collided with Foxhall Scott, who was guarding the goal, and both were thrown violently to the earth. Keene was stunned for a moment, but recovered, and after chasing his pony around the field, mounted and came back with a charge that could not be stopped and sent the goal. The cavalry man was not injured.

The field was in perfect shape, having been rolled until it was level and dry and as fast as the players themselves. The ponies accustomed to their riders and the altitude for a taken wind to carry a polo pony through seven and a half minutes of charge was having the ground very anxious to be hit.

From the first it was plain that the Army team would speed in the game as a matter of course. Although the game was fast and the riders were at their best, the cavalry team did not seem to have the punch. Thus the play was fairly a foregone conclusion.

Cheyennes Play Brilliant Game.

In the second period the Army team would hit again and time with the Cheyennes. That said it was a game. The Cheyennes were in the mood to play and the Army team was not. The Cheyennes were in the mood to play and the Army team was not. The Cheyennes were in the mood to play and the Army team was not.

Colonel, Red as an Indian, Tells of Outing in Wilds of Arizona

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Colonel Roosevelt turned almost as red as the desert Indians among whom he has been journeying, arrived here today. He spent less than two hours in the city before taking the Pennsylvania special for Oyster Bay. He was met at the Union P. station by Thomas D. Knight, president of the Chicago Progressive club and a delegation of members and later took a "bathing" lunch consisting of "help-yourself" basis at the club.

On the way to this function in an automobile the colonel was recognized by many persons and waved his wide-brimmed Panama hat in response to customary shouts of greeting. He said that he had enjoyed his vacation and had profited by his studies of Indian character and customs.

At the club house the colonel was greeted by several supporters, headed by Mrs. Ethel Willing. In the course of his talk with Mrs. Willing, who told him she was the mother of four sons, he said that he knew of no man who was so much contented with his life as the mother of some of his boys.

As the day went on, the colonel was surrounded by the same new and old friends who had been on the trail. He passed at a book store and bought some books, including a new edition of "The Life of George Washington."

FIRST SESSION OF CONGRESS OF GOVERNORS THIS MORNING

Meeting in Burns Theater at 10 o'Clock Is Open to Those Holding Tickets; Executives Plan Busy Week

With an address on economic conditions in the west by Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, the opening session of the House of Governors will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Burns theater. Secretary Lane's address is scheduled for 11 o'clock. Gov. Elias M. Ammons of Colorado will open the session with an address of welcome, and will be followed by Mayor Charles L. McKesson of Colorado Springs, Governor William S. Pritchard of Utah, and Governor John H. Egan of New Mexico.

Admission by Card Only.

Admission to this morning's session will be by card only. Both residents and visitors in Colorado Springs and the Pikes Peak region are invited to attend the opening session of the conference at the Burns, but they must secure cards from one of the places named in another article in this paper. The ruling will be rigidly enforced.

With governors from 14 states accompanied by their secretaries and staffs, the Colorado Springs last night, the lobby at the Antlers took on a lively appearance. Everywhere there was anxiety and confusion as the governors sought to get to the Burns for the opening session of the conference. By noon today it is expected that at least 25 governors will be in the city for the session of the house.

The executive committee of the House of Governors held an informal session at headquarters at the Antlers last night to formulate plans for the week's program. Although a meeting of the committee on rural credits was scheduled for last night it was deferred until a later date.

The house will hold a business session this afternoon at 2 o'clock to be devoted to the morning's meeting. This and the remaining sessions will be held in the ballroom at the Antlers. At this afternoon's session the committee on cooperation will make its report. Governor Emmett O'Neal of Alabama is chairman of the committee.

SMART SET ENJOYS SPECTACULAR POLO AT CHEYENNE MOUNTAIN COUNTRY CLUB TOURNNEY

By RAMONA BRADY

YESTERDAY afternoon the polo field at the Cheyenne Mountain Country Club was a scene of activity. The polo match, which is marking an epoch in the society life of Colorado Springs, was held at 3 o'clock. The game was not so much for the spectators as it was for the players, who were all of the smart set.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill entertained a great many of the smart set at the club before the game. At 3 o'clock a party of about 200 people, including the polo players, the spectators, and the polo players, gathered on the polo field.

The brilliant polo match, which was the grandstand feature of the polo field, was held at 3 o'clock. The game was not so much for the spectators as it was for the players, who were all of the smart set.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, and Mrs. Robert Walsh watched the game from the polo car. In another car nearby parties as on Saturday. Mrs. John G. Shields, Mrs. W. Kennon Jewett and Mrs. E. W. Goddard shared a box, and in another were Mrs. James T. Anderson and a party of children. Mrs. Ebert Smith and Mrs. Charles Farnsworth were included in another party, and Mrs. Franklin Bartlett entertained guests again in her box. Mrs. Joseph Harrison, who was exquisitely beautiful in the black and white she is wearing now, was entertained by a group of youngsters while Mr. Harrison was playing on the field.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bull, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Phipps, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hughes of Denver formed an interested party in one of the boxes, and in another were Mrs. Kessel Davis, Mrs. Edward DeForest, and Mrs. Gordon Russell Thayer. Miss McCandless again chaperoned a party of debutantes in Mr. Eisenmenger's box. Mrs. Rebecca J. Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Seldomirick had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Copeland of Nebraska, Mrs. Daniel Rupp and Master Edwin Glade. Mrs. O. E. Hemmaway, Mrs. Frank Cotton, Miss Vesta Tucker and Miss Addie Hemmaway were in the Hemmaway box, and near them were the party Mr. and Mrs. Hallock of Kansas City are entertaining this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush L. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. John Tait Milliken and the

Miss Gladys McMillan and Mr. Frederick Allen; Miss Elizabeth Lockhart and Mr. Washington Pastorius gave a truly cabaret entertainment, and afterwards everyone joined in the dance, and hoped, trotted and tangoed until the wee sma' hours.

With the exception of those of the smart set who dined with Governor and Mrs. Dix at the Chester Alan Arthur home they were all there—the Broadmoor set and their town friends, their guests and the younger set, of course, who really enjoyed it more than any of the jolly good times they have had for a long time. Last night's will not be the last of the cabaret suppers—it was far too successful and too enjoyable for that. Indeed, they promise to become very popular at the country club.

Large Luncheon Today

Mrs. Turner Cooke is giving one of the largest affairs of the week today at the country club where she is entertaining at an elaborate luncheon for Governor and Mrs. Dix, Mrs. Harvey Jackson and Mr. Worthington Palmer. The other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alan Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Hill of Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. MacNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Moncrief of Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. Chaloner Schley, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bryant Turner of Denver, Major and Mrs. Charles T. Lowndes, Mrs. F. W. Goddard, Mrs. James T. Anderson, Mrs. Hugh McMillan, Major Turner of New York city, Mr. S. L. Shober, Mr. Foxhall Keene of New York city, Captain Long of Fort Robinson, Mr. Douglas C. Colley-McNeill, Mr. Fred L. Sherwin and Mr. Eugene P. Shove.

The Arthur Dinner

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alan Arthur presided over a dinner party of elegant appointments at their home for their house guests, Governor and Mrs. Dix of New York and Mrs. Harvey Jackson of Albany, N. Y., who is Mr. Arthur's cousin.

Covers were laid for Governor and Mrs. Dix, Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hazerman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Baldwin, Mrs. Turner Cooke, Miss Schofield, Mr. J. Addison Hackett, Mr. Worthington Palmer of Albany, N. Y., Mr. Loring Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur.

The Arthurs are entertaining again on Wednesday evening for their guests before the big Potter ball at El Pomar.

For Luncheon Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Potter have issued invitations for a luncheon they are giving at El Pomar Friday for Governor and Mrs. Dix.

Country Club Luncheon

Governor and Mrs. Dix and Mr. Foxhall Keene, all of New York, were the guests of honor yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. MacNeill entertained a number of guests at luncheon at the country club before the polo game.

The Governors' Reception

This evening Governor and Mrs. Ammons of Colorado will formally receive for themselves and for the state the visiting governors and their families from our sister states, who are here this week for their national conference. The reception originally was to have been held only for the general public.

The drawing room at the Antlers hotel will be elaborately decorated for the occasion with national and state flags, ribbons and ferns, as will the ballroom. Pink's orchestra is scheduled to play during the reception, and later for the dancers. Mr. Thompson of the hotel has arranged to have a delicious light supper served after the dinner and a very informal dance.

After the dance will precede over 1000 guests at the Antlers before the polo game and ball are Mrs. James T. Anderson, who will entertain 14 guests, and Mrs. W. Kennon Jewett, who will entertain a party of 14 in one of the grand drawing rooms. Mrs. Goddard will entertain a party of 14 and Mrs. Ebert Smith will entertain a party of 14.

The Art Exhibit

The splendid exhibit of American art, which is being held in the DeGraff building this week under the auspices of the Colorado Springs Fine Arts society, is a number of patronesses, and is a wonderful success.

ful and also deservedly successful—for without doubt this is the most attractive and thoroughly worth while collection of paintings we have ever had exhibited here in Colorado Springs. It includes work by the best, foremost painters of our country today, and is more than worth the attention of Colorado Springs people, more than 800 of whom have already viewed the collection since the opening day last Thursday.

In addition to the pictures that have already been mentioned as especially noteworthy in the exhibition are the following, which have attracted much attention and which are well worth a quiet hour's study and appreciation: "Autumn Sunshine" by Walter Sargent; "The Lake" by W. R. Derrick; "Winter Morn in the Ravine" by T. C. Steele; "Among the Hills" by Philip Little; "Autumn Glad" by Charles Francis Browne.

The etchings, too, by Earl Reed and Charles Dahlberg, and the good block printing by Baumann, have especially interested not only connoisseurs in art, but the young people and those inexperienced in technique, though appreciative of real worth and beauty. Some of the visitors at the exhibition have remained for hours studying these subjects.

It has been suggested by many of the visitors to the exhibit that this would be a favorable time to start a permanent art gallery for Colorado Springs, as there are many works that might be borrowed from the residents here and from the college as a nucleus to which could be added from time to time a picture bought from visiting exhibitors. In this was Colorado Springs would soon have an exhibit of which it could be very proud. This has been the ambition of the art lovers of the city since the first exhibition, held here in January, and if the public really enjoys the exhibits as much as the attendance of last winter and the present time would indicate, an added attraction to the Springs in the form of a permanent gallery would surely fill a long-felt want.

At any rate, while this superb collection is here, let us make the most of it. It will be on exhibition until Saturday evening in the Fine Arts academy rooms on the fourth floor of the DeGraff building, and is open to the public. Everyone is cordially invited not only to go and glance at the pictures, but to stay and study and love them if you will.

Tea for Miss Morrison

Mrs. Berne H. Hopkins will preside over an afternoon tea and informal reception this afternoon at her home on East Caramilla street, for her sister, Miss Adelaide Morrison, whose wedding to Mr. William Russell Fawcett will be celebrated at the Hopkins home during the first week of September.

College Men Weds

The wedding of Miss Florence Steele and Mr. Gilbert Carey, Colorado college, 1910, in Denver, today, is of great interest to both college people and to many town people here, for Mr. Carey was one of the most popular men who ever attended our college, and Miss Steele has made friends galore during her frequent visits with her aunt, Mrs. Eugene P. Shove.

The wedding is to take place at the home of the bride, and will be very quiet, only members of the two families and Mr. Glenn Bowers, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, having been invited. After the ceremony the young couple will spend their honeymoon at one of the mountain resorts before going to the big Carey ranch in Routt county, where they will make their home.

Miss Steele is a very attractive girl and a graduate of Wellesley college. She first became well acquainted in Colorado Springs when her brother, "Shorty" Steele, was in college here. Mr. Steele was married only a few weeks ago in Seattle. Mr. Carey was very popular while in college, and was considered one of the finest athletes who ever attended the local institution. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Program Arranged for Charming Musical

One of the most attractive programs that has been arranged for many a moon is prepared for the lawn musical, which a number of unusually talented artists are giving tomorrow afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. A. J. Carper, 1411 South Nevada avenue, under the auspices of and for the benefit of the art and literature department of the Woman's club.

The program is unique in that it is composed almost entirely of numbers written by Colorado Springs musicians who have become known widely and well—who are famous for their compositions. There will be two piano solos written by Rubin Goldmark and played by Mrs. Anna Campbell Tasker, a very talented concert pianist of Topeka, Kan. Mr. Goldmark is, of course, so well known that it is needless to remark upon his wonderful ability; it is only to be regretted that Colorado Springs is rather slow in accepting using and being thankful for his works—but, as in the case with others of our geniuses, we are coming to know and appreciate their worth as does the rest of the world, which is not always so cold as our own city.

Then Mrs. Katherine Graves will sing two splendid songs written by Mrs. Julie Stevens Bacon (we hereby refuse to add "of St. Louis"). "The Cup of Life," especially, is a truly fine thing—a song so big and broad, so intense in its minor note, so compelling as to leave one thrilling first with the wonderful tone picture, there with the realization of what Mrs. Bacon has done, and finally with a vision of what she will do in the future when the past has brought "The Cup of Life."

And there are to be two of the newest compositions of Mrs. Maude McFerran Price, the composer of "Colorado." The program, complete with the exception of some very clever "stunts" which are to be kept as delightful surprises, will be as follows:

- Piano Solos—(a) Weeping Willows, (b) Soughing Pines from a piano suite, "In the Forest" by Rubin Goldmark.
- Vocal Solos—(a) America, Maude McFerran Price (b) The Blue Bird, Maude McFerran Price.
- Miss Ethel Barbee.
- Whistling Solo—(a) Il Miserere, from "Il Trovatore" by Giuseppe Verdi.
- Mrs. George Kennedy.
- Costume Dance—Spanish Bolero dance (as danced by Senorita Lucetia de Valle, solo dancer of the famous mission play given at San Gabriel, (a) Senorita Lucetia de Valle, Miss Dorcas Carter.
- Piano Solo—Staccato Caprice, by Vogt.
- Mr. Nelson Brett.
- Vocal Solos—(a) Cup of Life, Julie Stevens Bacon (b) Dream, Julie Stevens Bacon.
- Mrs. Katherine T. Graves.

Shower for Bride-to-Be

Miss Katherine Ballard, whose wedding to Mr. Frank D. Clay will take place September 17, was the guest of honor last week at an informal shower given by Miss Alice Craig at her home in Ivywild. Miss Ballard arrived at her hostess' home rather later than the other guests and was greeted by a "shower" of little personal trinkets that every girl delights in. Those present were the honor guest, Miss Marguerite Ballard; Miss Hazel Dierck, Miss Bessie Currie, Miss Mildred Koon, Miss Rowena Williams, Miss Ethel Barbee, Miss Natalie Shettle and Miss Fay Russell.

Miss Cranmer to Wed

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Martha J. Cranmer of Denver announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss William Cranmer to Mr. Grover Coors, son of Mr. Adolph Coors of Golden. The news is of great interest here, for Miss Cranmer, one of the most charming and most popular society girls in Denver, is also extremely popular here in Colorado Springs, where she has been a frequent visitor for several years.

She is very beautiful and has been one of the reigning belles of the young social set in Denver since her return from Paris two years ago. Prior to her sojourn in the French capital she attended Gonzaga in Philadelphia and Miss Wolcott's in Denver. This winter Miss Cranmer became a devotee of La Danse, and has been the guiding star this summer of our own smart set during their very exclusive Wednesday afternoon tango teas. Mr. Coors is a graduate of Cornell and took a post-graduate course in Berlin.

Cast for "Much Ado"

At the last meeting of the children's ward committee of the Visiting Nurse association, held at the home of Mrs. James Ferguson Burns, the final plans were perfected for the "Little Princess" and "Much Ado" the two plays to be given the Saturday and Monday at the Grand opera house for the benefit of the ward.

The members of the committee were as enthusiastic as are the participants themselves over the prospects
